

Florence
“Sustainability of Well-being” International Forum
2015: Food for sustainability and not just food
4-6 June 2015

Organized by
Simone Cesaretti Foundation, UniCeSV-University of Florence and CeSET
within the official activities for EXPO2015

With the support of the Regione Toscana and Ente Cassa di Risparmio di Firenze

The First edition of the Florence SWIF will focus on a multidisciplinary approach for the analysis of well-being sustainability in relation to the food sector and it will be held in Florence on 4-6 June 2015 as one of the official Expo2015 events.

You are invited to submit a contribution in the form of a short paper

(Maximum length is 25.000 characters -including spaces and references) to be selected for presentation and publication in the proceedings (with pending Scopus and ISI indexing) and in special issues of indexed journals.

The Forum will host an opening plenary session with the contribution of Jean-Paul Fitoussi and the participation of high level representatives in the fields of religion, business, labour and governance followed by parallel sessions with specific topics related to Life Styles, Environment, Territory and Wine. The full list of topics and sessions can be found here.

Deadlines:

- Submission of short papers: March 15th 2015

News

Submission

Paper submissions and the peer review process will be managed through the "EasyChair" platform (here is the link for submissions). The authors can choose among four thematic areas: "Life Styles", "Environment", "Territory" and "Wine". International experts have been invited and they have agreed to coordinate the sessions.

Awards

A 7 days holiday in a typical tuscan agritourism is the special prize given by the Editorial Scientific Committee to the best paper for each session.

Proceedings

The proceedings will be published by Elsevier in their Agriculture and Agricultural Science Procedia collection.

Furthermore, authors of selected papers, chosen by the Editorial Scientific board, will be invited to submit extended versions for possible inclusion (after a further peer review) in international journals.

The Journals that have promoted this initiative are "Review of Studies on Sustainability", "Wine Economics and Policy" and "Aestimum". Other International Journals have joined the initiative.

Programme

We can confirm the participation of important experts on themes and issues closely linked to the achievement of the sustainability of well-being. You can click here for the updated programme.

Hotel Info

We recommend to all interested in attending to promptly evaluate possible accommodations. June is a perfect time to visit Florence and EXPO 2015 could determine an additional flow of visitors that could limit the availability of accommodations.

We would highly appreciate your attendance, as well as the promotion of the FLORENCE SWIF event among your colleagues and co-workers. Please feel free to forward this Call for Papers.
